1. The Agenda

One or two free nights during the program wouldn't harm - I wouldn't mind to skip a common meal or a lunch and go for a museum or a walk to be inspired or to load my battery!

The fact that the agenda has been fulfilled attested to it's good executability

Verificou-se que em alguns trabalhos era necessário mais tempo.

I think that the agenda was very well adequated to the objectives and the training effort that was needed to achieve these.

Achievements partly realised by training event itself and partly by the reports, still to be completed & commented by the participants

It created positive opportunities for both groups A and B

Tasks were developped on time and with the quality that was expected and activities to be developped within next monts were clearly deffined and accepted by all participants.

4. Partnership

Expertise mainly exchanged verbally and through presentations, not following a strict format (unclear whether powerpoints should have been prepared). Theoretical bases e.g. for the self assessments have hardly been explored. However, a global format gives room to spontaneous presentations and a wider variety of approaches

Each new meeting increases the exchange of experiences and adds new and positive practices

The partnership has been growing since the first training event. This means that participants are now more able to establishing connections and deep their involvement one to each other and one to larger group.

5. Work collaboration

A escuta ativa é realmente difícil, mas tem-se conseguido quase sempre fazer.

There was certainly much interest in each others way of working but it takes time to have a proper view on the conditions and frameworks in each country. Language problems and lack of proper definitions for some key issues (e.g. inclusion, special needs, assessment, care, personalised learning, curriculum) sometimes hinder the discussions or proper expression of ideas

I believe that the complicity developed in the meantime allows more and better communication between the partners

The agenda and the tasks allow that each participant could intervene in different levels and producing different outputs.

6- Coordinator Evaluation (José Miguel Sousa)

Pleasant coordination, attentive to participants, representative to officials. Take care when we have guests (like parents and pupils) to keep their stories and answers central, whereas a headmaster may easily take over!

Contributed actively to the profitability of the training event

JMS is a leader in the true sense of word. the above abilities (communication skills, participation promotor; active listener and problem solving) are only some of his characteristics.

Será necessário reservar mais algum tempo para as atividades culturais.

I think that availability of all participants is excellent and allows every one to share their knowledge. Work of Polish team has been excellent

Great experience and collaboration!

Some of the (smaller) group sessions were directed to brainstorming, some other to work more in detail (e.g. finding indicators). These 'detail' sessions might be more fruitful when work is divided and groups don't choose themselves what to work out

It's a wonderful group to work, to reflect and to discuss. It has been a great pleasure to work with them all

A agenda tem de ter algum tempo livre de qualquer atividade organizada.
